Plea to put back court closure

SUFFOLK'S Police and Crime Commissioner is calling for Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court to stay open for six months longer so there is time to develop alternative arrangements for Haverhill residents. Tim Passmore told the News he is meeting with new courts minister Oliver Heald and Suffolk MPs Jo Churchill and Peter Aldous in London on October 20 to discuss the matter.

The court was scheduled to close between July and September this year, but Mr Passmore, MPs including Haverhill's Matthew Hancock and local leaders, Have your say at cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill are fighting to secure access to justice for West Suffolk residents.

Mr Passmore said: "What we want is a six-month stay of execution to come up with alternative proposals."

If the court is closed without other arrangements in place, West Suffolk residents will have to travel to Ipswich for a hearing.

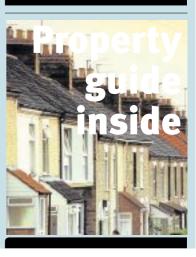

Mr Passmore said: "I often use Haverhill as an example. If you are a victim and live on your own and don't have transport, and you have a hearing in Ipswich, you may not be able to get there and back in a day."

Amazing Grace reaches age of 106

IN the year she was born, Captain Scott set off to try to reach the South Pole, and a new medical device, the X-ray, was used by surgeons to remove a nail from a 9-year-old boy's lung. Believed to be Cambridge-shire's oldest woman, Grac Moore celebrated her 106th birthday on Friday with a slap-up tea, surrounded by fellow residents at Nichols Court care home in Linton.

A card from the Queen was expected, and a special birthday cake was laid on by staff for Grace and the home's 50-plus residents. Grace, who came to live at the 'independent living' flats complex when it opened six years ago, spoke to the News before the card from Buckingham Palace had arrived.

She joked: "If I don't get one, I'll be on the phone to Care home manager Wendy Guild said: "Grace is a little hard of hearing, but she is in good health and is very much liked by all the other residents here.

"We're delighted for her that she's reached such an amazing age." Other events in the year of Grace's birth included the death of King Edward VII, and the making of the first-ever movie in Hollywood.

The Titanic sank when she was 2, the First World War broke out when she was 4, and she was in her early 30s when the Second World War

Apprentices to be rewarded

AN awards ceremony will be celebrating Haverhill's apprenticeships next month.

Nominations are now open for the ONE Haverhill Apprenticeship Awards, which will take place on Friday, November 18.

The five awards presented will be: Apprentice of the Year, Apprenticeship Employer of the Year, Overcoming Adversity Awards, Apprentice Champion of the Year and Highly Commended Award.

The awards were launched by ONE Haverhill last spring after its apprenticeship scheme kicked off in September 2013. HANNAH MIRSKY

In the three years it has been running it has advertised 175 apprenticeship vacancies - more than one a

John Mayhew, chairman of ONE Haverhill Partnership, said: "Our apprenticeship scheme, led by youth skills worker Karen Chapple, has been a big success story of the partnership.

"We have exceeded all targets when it comes to finding suitable apprenticeship employment and opportunities for Haverhill's young."

Ms Chapple added: "We want to celebrate the apprenticeship scheme and celebrate good news. We want everyone that's done well to be recognised and appreciated – it's about feeling good."

Apprentices and business can be nominated by any-one in the community. The deadline for nominations is Friday, November 4. A judging panel will then choose the winners ahead of the ceremony, which will take place at Sanofi in Rookwood Way.

Firm gives £1k for boy's physio

HANNAH MIRSKY• @HannahMirskyCN

A BUSINESS has presented a Haverhill family with a cheque for $\mathfrak{L}1,000$ – after reading about them in the News.

The Thomas family are fundraising for physiotherapy for 6-year-old Aiden, who has cerebral palsy. He needs intensive sessions which will enable him to walk independently when he is older.

dently when he is older.
Funeral directors Peasgood and Skeates, who run a shop in Haverhill's Queen Street, decided to donate £1,000 to the family after reading about them in the Haverhill News.

Phil Warner, of Peasgood and Skeates, said the cash had come from a charity golf day.

He said: "When we saw the article, we thought: 'Crikey, we've got some money to donate to the fund."

Aiden and his twin brother Owen – were presented with a cheque at Peasgood and Skeates' Haverhill shop on Monday.

Vicky said: "That's going to make such a huge difference – it's like two whole weeks of physio."

She said that she was noticing improvements in Aiden's balance as a result of the physio he has had so far.

And the family are continuing with their own fundraising. Gareth is training hard for an Iron Man triathlon, while Vicky is preparing to do a "firewalk" across hot coals on November 9.

Memorial golf day raises £11k

HANNAH MIRSKY

A GOLF day held in memory of a Haverhill boy who died aged 16 has raised more than £11,000 for the service that supported him.

Joshua Tarrant died in April 2012 after suffering from a brain tumour.

His family and friends have chosen to fundraise for the Brainbow service at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge.

They organised a charity golf day in August this year, the month Joshua would have turned 21. The Saffron Walden event raised £11,473, bring the golfers' total fundraising for the service since Joshua's death to more than £40,000.

Joshua's mother, Denise Tarrant, said: "We were absolutely delighted with how enthusiastic golfers are to take part in this event and for their wonderful fundraising support."

The money will be used to purchase an interactive play mat for the children's cancer ward at Addenbrooke's.

It is a floor projector that allows young patients to engage with games by moving over its surface. It is also flexible and can be moved around the ward and used in bed.

Michelle Gray, of Addenbrooke's Charita-ble Trust, said: "This is such a tremendous achievement and we are all so grateful to Sean, Denise and everyone who attended the event for their generosity. This play mat will be extremely important in helping to distract children undergoing difficult and painful treatments.

Business park to get new firm

A NEW employer is set to be up and running on Haverhill Business Park in the autumn

The business park, home to Culina Logistics and Haverhill's Travelodge hotel, has not been developed since 2008.

Until the start of this year, it had been left with large piles of earth from previous development – known lo-cally as the "Haverhill Alps"

- dominating the site.

But in January, Taurus
Developments, working with landowner Hammond Rutts, received permission to carry out earthwork to level the site.

This is set to be completed within the next two months. and last week the developers were granted planning permission to build on the site.

They will build bespoke units for occupiers – and Michael Gibbens, of Taurus Developments, said that one business had already signed up.

HANNAH MIRSKY @HannahMirskyCN

Mr Gibbens, who could not name the business due to commercial confidentiality, said work building the new unit would begin in the new year.

He said that the unit would be complete in the summer, meaning that it is set to open on the site in the autumn next year.

The new business will occupy one of seven plots with a total area of 495,000 sq ft. All of the plots are designated for business use, with no residential development on Mr Gibbens said that Taurus Developments was in talks with other businesses about the site.

"We haven't really done that much active marketing and we have got occupiers coming to us," he said. "We have got a number of others coming up at the moment.

Some are at quite early stages and some are a bit more advanced."

He said he was hopeful that "one or two" other businesses would be open on the site in 2017.

The site is set to deliver a significant number of jobs in Haverhill, and the developers have said it coincides well with the creation of housing on the North West-Haverhill and Great Wilsey Park developments.

Hammond Rutts bought the business park site in the middle of 2015.

The planning permission granted for the site last week was outline planning permission, meaning that the developers will still need to apply for reserved matters permission for each of the individual units.

More slimmers are seeking help

A NEW slimming group is being set up in Haverhill – as the current sessions cannot cope with demand.

The new Thursday Slimming World session at the New Croft in Chalkstone Way will be running in addition to packed-out sessions on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Vanessa Heales, who will be running the new session, said that setting it up was a response to high demand, estimating that the current Haverhill Slimming World groups have around 500 members and are expanding.

She added that it was also a response to statistics released by St Edmundsbury Borough Council in July revealing that Haverhill has the highest level of adult obesity in West Suffolk - in some wards it is nearly 30 per cent. She said: "We saw all the articles about the obesity levels.

"[Slimming World consult-ants] Jo and Tanya already run groups on Tuesday and Wednesday and they are abHANNAH MIRSKY

Vanessa, who has been a Slimming World member for four years, said whenever she went to the Monday and Tuesday meetings, there were around 120 members, and there were always new people

"I think in the New Year it's going to go crazy," she said. Vanessa already runs a Slimming World group in Ridgewell and said she was keen to help when she was asked to run the Thursday group in Haverhill.

It will begin as a morning group at 9.30am, but she said that if it proved as popular as the other sessions, a Thursday evening group might also be opened.

Vanessa – who lost fiveand-a-half stone herself after said the rise in membership may be linked to an increasing awareness of the problem of obesity.

The obesity statistics re-leased in July have already prompted action.

ONE Haverhill's health task group is working on putting together a directory of all the different organisations helping people get physical activity in Haverhill.

Town councillor Betty McLatchy is launching a se-ries of "Ziggy Zumba" ses-sions aimed at children and their parents.

If you are interested in join-ing the Thursday Slimming World group, you can turn up on the day. You can also call Vanessa beforehand on 07917 466 641, as she may be able to advise on special joining of-

Church races weather to raise £85k for roof

HANNAH MIRSKY

A CHURCH near Haverhill is "up against the clock" to raise £85,000 for repairs after lead was stolen from the roof.

Thieves stripped two-thirds of the lead from the roof of St Andrew's Church in West Wratting back in April, leading to water damage on the inside of the church as rain seeped in.

The damage to the roof and the interior was so extensive that it will cost £85,000 to repair – on top of the money provided by insurance.

The church has been applying for grants to help fund the repairs, but is also appealing for support from the community.

It has received support from the Wadlow Wind Farm Community Fund and the Cambridgeshire Historic Churches Fund, as well as from villagers and councillors.

But it stills need more cash to be able to start the work in the next few months - as the temporary roof will not withstand the winter

Church warden Alex Walsham said: "The church has significant stains down the walls, and people are putting in buckets to catch the drips. It's a very difficult situation and the longer we have to wait to repair it the more damage will be done before the main winter wet period takes place. We can't proceed with the work until we raise the money so we are really up against the clock."

"We are very anxious to get this

The church's next fundraising event will take place on Saturday at 7.30pm at Holy Trinity Church in Balsham, and is a concert including organ, flute and the local Seven Churches choir. Tickets cost £12 and can be purchased by contacting Michael and Linda Gorman on (01223) 290 653. You can also send cheques payable to "West Wratting Parochial Church Council" to 25 High Street, West Wratting, Cambridgeshire CB21 5LU

THE KIA SOUL: Extra shove Extra Soul: Kia's GT engine in crossover

KIA has fitted the Soul crossover with the 201bhp 1.6-litre turbocharged petrol engine from the Cee'd GT hot hatchback.

Set to join the range after debuting at the Paris Motor Show, the new powerplant will be mated to a seven-speed twin-clutch automatic transmission, permitting a 0-60mph time of 7.5 seconds and a 122mph top speed.
This extra performance has necessitated larger front brakes than the standard car, as well as a discontinuous description.

drive mode selector that allows the car to be set up for sporty driving, normal use or maximum economy.

Kia's changes haven't just been under the skin, though, as the most powerful Soul has benefited from aesthetic tweaks that mark it out from the rest of the range. A more prominent, red-trimmed front bumper has been fitted, along with twin rear exhaust pipes and model-specific alloy wheels.

Manchetts takes on Isuzu

LEAN: The Ford Mustang

Muscle Mustang set up for MPG Marathon

A 5.0-LITRE V8 muscle car might not be the obvious choice of vehicle to enter into an ecodriving contest, but that's exactly what the UK's best-selling car brand will be doing in this year's MPG Marathon.

One of Ford's entries in the annual fuel economy challenge is a convertible version of the iconic Mustang, which develops 410bhp and has a top speed of 155mph. With an average fuel consumption figure of 20mpg, it's hardly the obvious choice for an event that celebrates economical driving. Or

"The great thing about the MPG Marathon is that it's as much about driving style as it is about eco vehicles," said event organiser, Jerry Ramsdale.

ANCHETTS, the Newmarket-based Renault service dealership and recovery specialist, has taken on the Isuzu dealership for the dealership.

"We took the dealership over on August 5th," says sales manager Nigel Foster.

"With 50 stud farms around the area, we feel very positive about the range. These pick-ups can tow 3.5 tonnes and will happily pull a horsebox."

Manchetts employs 130 people in total at its sites in Burwell and Newmarket. The Isuzu dealership involves four mechanics and a team

"We're a Renault main agent, MAN and LDV

main agent," adds Nigel. "We're moving Isuzu to new premises in Newmarket next month.'

The Isuzu range, which is priced from £14,700, comprises four options on the D-Max - the 4x2 single cab, 4x4 single cab, the 4x4 extended cab and the 4x4 double cab.

"We've got eight trucks for viewing plus one demo on the site," said Nigel. "The range goes up to £27,000 for the Blade which has leather, satnav, Bluetooth, cruise control, electric windows and 18-inch alloys.

Manchetts is based at Victoria Way, Studlands Industrial Park, Newmarket CB8 7ZH. Call (01638) 674490 or email nigel@manchetts. co.uk for further information.

Five-door option is now available for Ford's Fiesta ST

FORD'S award-winning Fiesta ST hot hatchback is now available in five-door guise. The ST, which is widely regarded as the best small hot hatch on sale, has been sold as a five-door in the USA, but this is the first time it has come to Europe in its more practical shape.

Offered only on the better-equipped ST-2 and ST-3 variants, the extra doors have no effect on the car's impressive performance.

As with the three-door version, power comes from a 1.6-litre turbocharged engine producing 180bhp, resulting in an unchanged 6.9-second 0-62mph time, but fuel efficiency has taken a small hit.

Whereas the three-door returns 47.9mpg and 138g/ km CO2 emissions, the five-door is slightly less economical, managing 46.3mpg and 141g/km emissions.

The usual ST fittings, such as the tuned suspension, steering and brakes, have all been carried over to the more practical car in a bid to maintain the much-lauded handling.

Prices start from £19,495, which makes more expensive than its three-door equivalent, but that includes 17-inch alloy wheels, the wide ST grille and a sculpted rear diffuser, as well as privacy glass and halogen headlights.

DEMAND: The five-door Fiesta ST retains the brand's famous handling characteristics

ROAD TEST

OMETIMES it's what you know well which can give you the biggest surprise, like the Vauxhall Corsa Red.

Coming from a very familiar range of city cars offering bog standard three or five door styles with a range of petrol or diesel engines and assortment of trim levels you are possibly spoiled for choice.

But then you spot the only, the very special, Red edition.

They bring obvious sporting features such as a red paint-scheme, 17inch diamond cut alloys on sports suspension, leather detailing on sports seats, dark tinted rear windows, and a very sophisticated infotainment system including the acclaimed OnStar assistance service with 24/7 on-call help for a variety of tasks. These are in addition to comprehensive kit, safety systems and driver comfort features. found on other Corsa models.

It is a very good offering at the price. Nor does the performance disappoint The 1.4-litre engine delivers strong pulling power from standstill, through the gears and along major roads.

It is very flexible and achieves nearly 40mpg overall without effort, but a lot of smiles along the way.

The clutch had a longer-than-expected travel but was progressive in take-up and the neat close gearchange quickly endeared itself with its precision.

The weight-adjustable power steering could be set for city or country modes, the turning circle was good and the feedback informative.

Match the powertrain and steering with the strong yet well balanced brakes underfoot and the Corsa Red inspired confidence in its ability to keep you safe.

The road-holding never gave a moment's concern and its handling was sharp without being twitchy.

You could hear the suspension coping with the road beneath and while the ride was firm it was fairly comfortable.

The major controls were complimented by good clear instruments and a multi-function display for sound and integrated media.

Heating and ventilation was effective in front but struggled to keep those in the back comfortable. Oddments room was reasonable and the bootspace rises from a nominal 285 litres to maximum 1,050 litres.

Visibility was good throughout.

As a three-door easy and satisfying drive the Vauxhall Corsa Red is very good and you might be tempted to take it on longer journeys as well as about town or weekend trips further afield.

If you do, familiar journeys will suddenly seem fun again.

Holmes and Hill are the heroes for Rovers

SAM Holmes and Danny Hill were both on target as Haverhill Rovers snapped Thetford Town's eight-game unbeaten run with a 2-1 victory in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier

Rovers took the lead after just five min-utes when Holmes scored from close range after Marcus Hunt's header from Luke Haines' corner had been palmed away by the Thetford

They extended their lead three minutes into first half stoppage time when Hill volleyed home into the bottom left corner.

Thetford improved in the second half, and they set up a tense finish when they pulled a goal back in the 82nd minute, all three substitutes combining to score the goal after a long throw-in was not cleared.

The hosts piled on the pressure in the final few minutes in a bid to get back on terms, but Rovers held out successfully.

In the First Division, Haverhill Borough beat Sudbury reserves 2-1.

Player-manager Martin Westcott and Ryan Swallow were the goal-scorers for Borough.

DONATION: Haverhill Rovers under-11s Blue have decided to donate the proceeds from their match programme sales from the whole season to the Community First Responders Representatives from CFR attended the club's derby against Haverhill Rovers under-11s White on Saturday. Rovers Blue came from a goal down to win 2-1, with their goals coming from Kooh Therese Mcloughlin and Ronnie Nelson.

Frustration for Sims in Blancpain finale

ALEXANDER Sims finished eighth overall in the Blancpain GT Series standings after a frustrating final race in

Sims and co-driver Philipp Eng made a promising start to the weekend in their Rowe Racing BMW M6 GT3 but started the qualifying race in 11th

Sims, from West Wratting, took the first stint and moved up to 10th before handing over the car to Eng at the halfway stage.

An incident between a WRT Audi and an ISR Audi meant that Sims and Eng's final position was eighth.

Eng took the wheel for the main race and made a good start before handing over to Sims.

A slow pitstop saw Sims enter the track in 11th place, and in his determination to make up ground, a misjudged overtaking move resulted in Motorsport him tagging another car into turn one. The car spun, and Sims was given a drive-through penalty as a result.

He eventually crossed the line in 24th place.

"That was a bit of a flat ending to a good season," said Sims.

"Philipp put us in a great position at the start of the race but we lost quite a bit of time in the pit-stop. I then slightly misjudged an overtake going into the first turn and tapped another car.

"Unfortunately, he spun out and the subsequent drive-through put us way back down the order.

"It's a shame to end the season in this way rather than on a high, particularly as we've had a few of those with the Spa 24 Hours win being the highlight.

"It's still very early days for the BMW

M6 GT3, but we've learned so much during the season and the team has continued to develop and refine the

"They've done a superb job and I'm sure that we can expect many fantastic results ahead for the car and the team.

Despite the Blancpain GT Series and British GT Championships being over for 2016, Sims still has races from October $13\ to\ 15$ and then the prestigious Macau Grand Prix on November 17 to 20.
